Zorin Deplores U.S. 'Retaliation'

Pravda Ignores Professor Case, Asks New Ties

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda, ignoring the arrest of Yale Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn and the fury it has caused in Washington said Saturday the Soviet Union wants to cooperate for peace and in economic and cultural spheres.

Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin said Friday he failed to see how the arrest "can color the whole range of Soviet-American relations."

Zorin deplored President Kennedy's postponement of negotiations for extension of the U.S.-Soviet cultural exchange program and said "I think it is a completely artificial link."

The organ of the Communist party, on the 30th anniversary of the resumption of diplomatic relations between the two countries, took no note of the tensions created by Barghoorn's arrest on spy charges. Instead, it claimed there were "weightier reasons than before to hope" for closer U.S.-Soviet cooperation.

American Boycott Meeting

"The Soviet Union," Pravda concluded, "wants to cooperate with the United States in the struggle for peace and international security and also in economic and cultural spheres."

The U.S. Embassy pointed up the American anger over the detention of Barghoorn, a Yale professor who writes and lectures on Soviet affairs. Embassy personnel boycotted a Moscow meeting marking the 30th anniversary of U.S. diplomatic recognition of the Soviet Union. "I wish they had come," Zorin said.

The American diplomats stayed away to protest the refusal of Soviet authorities to let some consular official see Barghoorn or give them additional information on the reasons for his arrest.

U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler did not even stay in town. He slipped off for a brief visit to Copenhagen, Denmark.

Mrs. Khrushchev Chairman

Zorin talked with newsmen at the meeting, held under the chairmanship of Mrs. Nikita Khrushchev, wife of the premier. She is deputy chairman of the Soviet Institute of Soviet-American Relations.

Zorin, who served in New York from 1960 to 1962 as Soviet representative on the U.N. Security Council, said he did not know what the next step will be in Barghoorn's case.

Foreigners in Soviet espionage cases usually are not permitted to see consular representatives or other officials of their nations until after their trials.

Told that Americans were convinced Barghoorn is not a spy, Zorin said people should be "careful of saying things like that."

He indicated that the professor, who entered the Soviet Union last month as a tourist to gather material for a book, "was not doing his proper work." Barghoorn was last seen by Americans in Moscow Oct. 31.

27 Russians Jailed For Diverting Bread

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass reported Friday 27 men have been jailed for up to six years for blackmarketing in scarce bread.

The official news agency said the men, bakery officials, bakeshop operators and drivers of bread trucks, stole 10,000 loaves of black and 1,200 of white bread which they diverted into "illegal channels."

Tass said this took place at Noginsk, 35 miles east of Moscow.

Bread is sold in the Soviet Union only through state stores. It may be manufactured only in state bakeries.

Kennedy Quip Evokes Laughter

President Kennedy, addressing the AFL-CIO convention in New York City yesterday, smiles after a quip he delivered evoked hearty laughter among delegates and especially from George Meany, right, AFL-CIO president. Kennedy told the delegates that he had read about Arizona Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater seeking "labor support" before 2,000 cheering businessmen.

International Party Command In Iraq Control

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Members of the Ba'ath Socialist party international command, headed by a Syrian, announced Friday they are assuming control of Iraq where a power struggle threatened revolution.

A statement issued in the Iraqi capital of Baghdad said Michel Aflak, the Syrian who founded the Ba'athist party, and a mixed group of Ba'athist generals from Iraq and Syria had taken over the government.

These leaders stepped in after a young group of moderate Socialists drove Deputy Premier Ali Saleh El Saadi, tough leader of the extremist left wing, into exile this week at gunpoint.

The leaders promptly exiled Saadi's main rivals, Foreign minister Taleb Shebib and Defense Interior Minister Hazem Jawad. The two arrived Thursday in Beirut, maintaining strict silence. They engineered Saadi's expulsion which threatened Wednesday to plunge the country into civil war.

Because he wants to take land from the rich and give to the landless, Saadi is popular with the masses and his expulsion led to violent street demonstrations. He now is in Madrid, Spain, confidently waiting a call to return.

Aflak and the generals now control Iraq are all members of the Ba'ath governing body, the international party command. The command is made up of five Iraqis, four Syrians, two Jordanians and two Lebanese.

The generals who are helping Aflak resolve the political gang are two Iraqis, Premier Hafiz El Bakr and Defense Minister Saleh Mahdi Ammash; and two Syrians, Premier Amin Hafez and the chief of staff of the Syrian army, Salah Jidid.

The officials said the loot was "mostly cash."

The white-helmeted bandits fired two pistol shots into the ceiling to an estimated 45 persons in the Bank of America branch but no one was injured. Some 40 customers were forced to lie face down in the lobby and 5 women tellers were herded into a small staff room, according to the FBI.

One of the robbers vaulted the counter and scooped money from five cash drawers, said W. R. Childs, district operations officer of the bank. The other held his revolver on customers and employees.

The chill in U.S.-Soviet relations over the detention in Moscow of Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn of Yale University as a spy has not yet extended to the United Nations. But the disarmament debate has been soured by an East-West clash over Soviet-bloc attacks on West Germany's role in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Soviet diplomats failed in their efforts to knock out a reference in the resolution to a 1961 U.S.-Soviet agreement on general principles of disarmament. The United States insisted upon its retention.

The extra time was requested by the Southern Democrats on the committee because the majority views for the report were late in reaching them due to the Veterans Day holiday shutdown of Congress.

The majority views are always written first and distributed to committee members so they may prepare any individual statements for inclusion in the final report.

With the report not due to be filed until the end of next week, the prospect of even getting a Rules Committee hearing this year is in doubt now.

Although the Southern members of the House Judiciary Committee were given only two additional days to prepare their dissenting views it amounts to the loss of another week in the race against a Christmas re-enactment.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., had announced earlier the report on the complicated, 10-page bill would be filed with the House next Tuesday. The committee staff said Friday the filing date has been set back to Thursday, which is generally

Tipsy Ambulance Driver Too Late; Baby Born In Car

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — A baby was born on the back seat of an automobile here Friday because, police said, an ambulance driver was drunk and took 45 minutes to make a five-minute run.

The General Hospital driver, Raleigh Brandenburg, 56, was arrested on charges of drunkenness and drunken driving.

Richard Laimore of Indianapolis, en route to a hospital, had stopped a police patrol car when his wife's labor pains became severe.

Patrolmen Carl Robertson and Jerry Piety radioed for an ambulance, waited, then assisted in the delivery of a boy.

Naval Station Bank Robbed

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Two gunmen wearing shore patrol uniforms robbed a crowded bank at the U.S. Naval station on pay day Friday and escaped through the guarded main gate with $125,700. The Federal Bureau of Investigation reported.

Bank officials said the loot was "mostly cash."

The white-helmeted bandits fired two pistol shots into the ceiling to an estimated 45 persons in the Bank of America branch but no one was injured. Some 40 customers were forced to lie face down in the lobby and 5 women tellers were herded into a small staff room, according to the FBI.

U.N. Committee Calls For New Disarm Policy

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly's main political committee approved by acclamation Friday a call for new disarmament talks in Geneva with the aim of reducing risks of war.

Without taking a record vote the 111-nation committee accepted a resolution setting out guidelines for the 18-nation disarmament commission expected to convene in Geneva early in 1964.

The committee thus maintained at the United Nations the so-called Spirit of Moscow that has been undergoing pressure elsewhere since the summer-time signing of the nuclear test ban treaty in Moscow.

The resolution sponsored by 47 nations was introduced after a U.S.-Soviet compromise on the wording broke a week-long deadlock in the committee. The compromise was negotiated by an eight-nation group from among the sponsors.

In its main provisions the resolution called on the Geneva negotiators to resume negotiations in a spirit of good will on complete and general disarmament under effective international control.

It directs them to widen areas of basic agreements already apparent between East and West and to put special emphasis on measures that could reduce international tension, lessen the possibility of war and facilitate overall disarmament.

The chill in U.S.-Soviet relations over the detention in Moscow of Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn of Yale University as a spy has not yet extended to the United Nations. But the disarmament debate has been soured by an East-West clash over Soviet-bloc attacks on West Germany's role in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

JFK Urging Tax Cut, Asks Labor's Help

Slash Will Create Jobs, Convention Of AFL-CIO Told

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy stood amid the sympathetic ranks of labor Friday, said there is no good reason to bar prompt passage of his $11-billion tax cut bill and appealed to the AFL-CIO for "your help, not next year: now."

While he was at it, Kennedy offered some measure of support himself to the giant labor organization's hope for boosting the national minimum wage.

In a speech to the AFL-CIO National Convention, Kennedy took a roundhouse swing at his opponents, used a bit of ridicule against Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, but passed up any open swipe at Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Standing Ovation

The President drew roars of applause and a standing ovation at his appearance in the ballroom of the Americana Hotel. It was jammed with 4,000 people, with an overflow of 1,500 listening across the hall.

The major theme of the President's speech was that the problem of jobs is "the basic issue facing the United States in 1963" and that a tax cut is the prime program to meet it.

He said it will generate two or three million jobs and some $30 billion in job-creating demand from the national economy.

"I can assure you that if we can obtain—and I see no good reason why we should not—if we can obtain the prompt passage of the pending $11-billion tax reduction bill, we will be sailing by next April on the winds of the longest and strongest peacetime expansion in the history of the United States," he said.

'Buoyant' Economy Needed

Then, at the end, Kennedy stressed the need for a "growing, buoyant and progressive economy in the United States." He said some assistance is needed to insure one and "so we asked your help, not next year: now."

At the outset, the President acknowledged a political debt to labor for his 1960 presidential victory and took a crack at Goldwater, ranked in polls as the Republican most likely to oppose him next year.

"The other day," Kennedy said with a wide grin, "I read in the newspaper where Sen. Goldwater asked for labor's support—before 2,000 cheering Illinois businessmen."

Reiner, Famed Conductor, Dies

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, (AP) — The exodus of 1,000 U.S. servicemen being withdrawn from South Viet Nam will start Dec. 3. Maj. Gen. Charles J. Timmes announced Friday. All are to be sent by the end of the year, reducing the American contingent to about 15,000.

By coincidence, the announcement came after the bloodiest week in the long war between Communist Viet Cong guerrillas and U.S.-backed government troops.

The general heads the U.S. Military Advisory Assistance Group in Viet Nam. His chiefs in the Pentagon have expressed belief that the Communists can be so whipped down that the need for major American involvement in the war will be ended by December 1965.

About 250 Americans are expected to make up the first detachment to leave. Timmes said they will be logistic and non-technical servicemen including advisers in engineering, ordnance, medicine, naval affairs and administration.

Timmes said no requests had been made by the new government of Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh to shift military advisers whose Vietnamese counterparts have been replaced since Nov. 1-2 coup in which President Ngo Dinh Diem was deposed and slain.

A U.S. military spokesman said the Communists were trying hard to discredit Diem's successors in the eyes of the lets, outposts and patrols in the seven days ended Wednesday cost the government 925 casualties — the highest number ever killed, wounded and captured in a single week. Communist losses were estimated at 740.

Funds Approved For W.Va. Projects

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Money for five West Virginia projects was included in a public works bill approved by the House Appropriations Committee Friday.

The projects would account for $16.46 million of the $1.4 billion appropriations bill for flood control, harbour improvements, reclamation and power projects.

The committee recommended spending $10.9 million additional for the Summersville Reservoir, $5.06 million for the Opeka Lock and Dam near Morgantown, $280,000 for the East Lynn Reservoir, $150,000 for planning the proposed Justice Dam in Wyoming County, and $73,000 for flood control work at Buckhannon.

Club Plans Yule Cheer For Families, Servicemen

Plans were made for a Christmas party at the meeting of the Women's Sport Club, conducted by Mrs. Frances Aman Thursday evening at the Cumberland County Club. It was decided that each member is to bring a jingle present, gift wrapped, also food of her choice for two needy families, adopted by the club "to help them have a merrier Christmas." The party will be held December 12 at the Country Club, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Mrs. Bessie Hanks is chairman, and will be assisted by Miss Wanda Lee Hanks, Mrs. Virginia Matt, Mrs. Lucille Durrett and Mrs. Sarah Kelley. The committee to deliver the food is composed of Mrs. Aman, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Madelyn Rizer, Mrs. Catherine Yarnall and Mrs. Ellen Carroll.

A letter of appreciation was read from Mrs. Sara Lindsay, executive secretary of the Red Cross, for a donation from the club, to be used towards purchasing a tape recorder, "to lighten the hearts of boys in service."

After a cocktail hour, dinner was served. The invocation was offered by Miss Mary Jo Schellhaus. Decorations were in keeping with the Thanksgiving theme, with prizes wrapped in colors matching the decorations, which were yellow pom-poms and a horn of plenty filled with fresh fruit. Miss Adelaide Hession was chairman for the evening, assisted by Mrs. Frances Brown and Miss Schellhaus.

Birthday greetings were extended by Mrs. Aman to Mrs. Loretta Cassen, Miss Marguerite Mullan and Mrs. Agnes Hersh. Numerous prizes were awarded throughout the evening. The Thanksgiving centerpiece was awarded to Mrs. Martha Gerkin; willow-wear platter with a drawing of the old stone bridge in the Narrows, to Mrs. Veronica Schleifman; and others to Mrs. Marian Hubbs, Mrs. Emma Crawford, Mrs. Mary Miller, Mrs. Yarnall, Miss Anna Lottig, Mrs. Edith Shanholtz, Mrs. Catherine Sowers and Mrs. Mary Ellen Serf.

Bridge and 500 concluded the evening. Prizes in bridge were a chicken wall plaque, won by Mrs. Miller; a pair of ornaments.

To Wed Today

The marriage of Miss Patricia Ann Turner, daughter of Mrs. Mary E. Turner, 500 Bedford Street, to Maurice Eugene Riggleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Riggleman, 205 Fairfax Street will be performed tonight at 7:30 in Living Stone Church of the Brethren.

Friends and relatives will be welcome to attend the ceremony and reception following.

A graduate of Fort Hill High School and Washington County Hospital School of Nursing, Hagerstown, the bride-elect is employed at Sacred Heart Hospital. Her fiance is a graduate of Fort Hill High School and attended Frostburg State College. A member of the Iron Workers' Local and of the Loyal Order of Moose, he is serving in the Army at Fort Eustis, Va.

Mrs. Dorothy Ziegler and Mrs. Kate Ackerman entertained with a shower for the bride-elect at the former's home. Games and skits featured the entertainment. Approximately 26 guests attended.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 13-year-old girl and in the eighth grade. In our class at school there are two groups of girls. One group is known as the clucks and the other group is known as the clucks.

The clucks are the fast kids and the clucks are the slow kids. Clicks do their hair up fancy, smoke make-out, and are boy crazy. Clicks study a lot, they do not wear lipstick, even on the sneak, and they seem sort of boring and babyish.

My problem is that I can't make up my mind which group I want to join. I look more like a Click, but my actions fit the Clicks better.

Can you help me decide?

—BIRDIE

DEAR BIRDIE: No, I can't help you decide. This decision is one only you can make.

I can tell you, however that I've received thousands of letters from Clicks who wish they had stayed Clicks.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I just finished reading the letter from the young man who wrote about his dainty bride who snored worse than any Army buddy he'd ever bunked with.

Well, I, too, have been married less than a year. My wife told me after two weeks that I had to do something about my snoring because I was keeping her up nights.

I went to a doctor and he could find nothing wrong with my nose or throat. He told me I had developed a habit of sleeping with my mouth open, and that's why I snored.

I was determined to break the habit and decided to experiment. Before retiring I placed two pieces of ordinary adhesive tape over my mouth. This is not nearly so uncomfortable as it sounds. After one week my problem was solved. I no longer have to use the tape. I now sleep with my mouth closed.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ATTENDING READING WORKSHOP — In observance of American Education Week, St. Mary's School is having a reading workshop Thursday, yesterday and this morning, for all parochial school teachers in Western Maryland. Left to right are Sister Ruth, principal of St. Mary's School; Sister M. Nola, principal of St. Patrick's, Mt. Savage; Joseph P. Gutkoske, Baltimore, supervisor of reading; Sister M. Samuelle, St. Joseph's Midland; and Sister M. Munilo, SS. Peter and Paul's. Sister Ruth Ann reports it is the first such workshop.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X E

is LONG FELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Cover Resigns From County Board Of Zoning Appeals

Ralph Cover, who has been a member of the Allegany County Board of Zoning Appeals, yesterday submitted his resignation to the county commissioners.

The board clerk was instructed to send a letter of appreciation to Mr. Cover for his services during the past two years.

The commissioners received a letter yesterday from Robert G. Walters, chairman of the Sunset View Civic Association, requesting that the board not name a replacement for Mr. Cover hastily.

Walters said that he had read where William L. Wilson, attorney for the Wes-Mar Communications Company, had appeared before the board to ask that the pending appeal before the board be held as soon as possible so that the ap-

County Dental Clinic Will Be Reactivated Soon

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday approved the plan to again have a dental clinic in the Health Department of Health, and after discussing the program agreed to enter into the plan.

Dr. Arthur F. Jones, acting county health officer, wrote the commissioners recently suggesting that the dental program be resumed after having been out of the agency's program since 1957 when the late Dr. Karl Kolb retired as the department's dentist.

The oral hygiene program of the county school system will also figure in the new program of the health department with the dentist checking school children for need.

Sir Alec Is Off And Running

Sir Alec Douglas-Home has been sworn as a member of Commons, thus completing his credentials for the Prime Ministership of Britain. House membership isn't mandatory, but tradition — plus the opportunity for floor debate against the Laborite opposition — makes it a convenient card for a Prime Minister to hold.

Sir Alec's belated entry was hastily, but not haphazardly, arranged. A Scot and a Conservative, he was entered in Scotland's Kinross-West Perthshire District, which has a reliable record of going Conservative. The constituency followed form and gave Sir Alec 57 per cent of its ballots.

Detractors nevertheless were able to point out that the Prime Minister's margin, while comfortable, did show a swing of 4.6 per cent away from the Tories since the district last held a by-election.

Of more serious concern to the Conservatives was the outcome in Luton, a town near London that has been prospering under Britain's industrial reawakening. Labor's victory there was its fifth since 1959.

Accordingly, the Laborites are eager for a general election. Sir Alec is just as determined to bide his time in order, as he says, "to deploy our policies and expose the socialists' policies." The accounting must come before next October, which should make for a lively time on both sides of the Atlantic in '64.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

Look To Your Own!

When a sovereign nation picks up a man as a spy, one hesitates, at a distance, to make any judgment on the justice of the charge. After all, how can one know? But when the Soviets arrested Professor Frederick Barghoorn of Yale the other day, they surely fastened upon the least likely candidate for the role of Nathan Hale that could be found on the political science faculty payroll of any U.S. university.

Barghoorn, to his friends, is not exactly a Casper Milquetoast. But he is an academic of academics, a careful, methodical writer who uses material in an unexciting way. His books, from "The Soviet Image of the United States: A Study in Distortion," which was published in 1950, to his more recent "The Soviet Cultural Offensive," are almost painfully objective. They are critical of Russia, if it be critical to call a dictatorship a dictatorship, but Barghoorn was never one to push anybody into making bellicose gestures toward Khrushchev.

Indeed, if he is the "image" of anything, it is of the current Kennedy line toward Russia. Barghoorn, like the President, is not in favor of the Soviet system. But he recognizes that it is there, and he has felt that we must accommodate ourselves to its existence if we are to have any semblance of peace in the world. He has been one of the great promoters of the theory that a more widely diffused cultural exchange between Russia and America might help create an atmosphere in which a detente would be possible.

During World War II and after, Barghoorn worked for the U.S. Embassy in Moscow. Later, before going to Yale as a lecturer, he was associated with "Osteuropa," a scholarly German publication. Working in Germany after the war, he interviewed Soviet defectors and helped tabulate the results. Naturally, the interrogations resulted in an unflattering picture of life in Russia. But Barghoorn was content to record the picture. He was not one to mount a soapbox to advocate that we do very much to change it.

It remains a deep mystery, as of the moment of this writing, just how a quiet, reflective, rather mousey professor, one who is known to his friends to be of the traditional absentminded vintage, could have been spying in any true sense of the word. His trip to Russia was taken in behalf of cultural relations. Visiting in Soviet Georgia along with the Robert Jenkins of the Clarion Concert Group, attending the opening of the American Graphic Arts Exhibition in Alma Ata in Central Asia, and spending some time in a Soviet hospital, which is the sort of thing that Barghoorn had been doing prior to his arrest, hardly impresses one as the way to uncover what the Russians may have discovered during their last spurge of atomic testing.

There have already been a score of speculations about the possible motives for the seizure of Barghoorn. Are the Russians trying to establish some obscure trading point for next week's scheduled talks between Moscow and Washington over new cultural exchange agreements? The crazy atmosphere surrounding the Barghoorn arrest is compounded by the fact that it was made on the eve of the planned departure from Moscow of sixteen Soviet poets, surgeons, editors and political commentators, all of them bound for an extensive visit to American cities from New York to San Francisco.

Now, any Soviet poet or editor who possesses a pad or pencil is, in the Russian way of reasoning, just as much of a spy as Barghoorn. It would be wrong to throw any of the visiting culture-spreaders in the clink just to get even with the Russians. But why not a social boycott of the visitors? Let everybody including the mayors of San Francisco and New York refuse to meet them unless Barghoorn is released. Let customers turn resolutely away from the visiting Soviet ballets and circuses. And let members of the Yale faculty who have been doing their share of anti-segregation picketing in Alabama and Maryland do a little pressuring in Washington on their colleague's behalf. After all, the poor fellow may be in for some "brain-washing" secret police torture that would make the plight of a Negro in Birmingham seem heavenly by comparison.

'Si, Señor—Now You Marry My Daughter!'

Foreign Aid Bill And Senatorial Peevishness

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

In the tedious but crucial struggle over the foreign aid bill, the old tradition of national-minded bipartisanship has been saving President Kennedy's bacon.

In the preliminary wrestling with the bill in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, the senior members of the majority and the minority, Sens. William Fulbright of Arkansas and Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, acted together as partners.

Sen. Hickenlooper is not widely known for his reluctance to take a good, hard, partisan whack at the Democrats whenever he sees a chance to do so. He thought that the foreign aid authorization that Sen. Fulbright wanted the committee to approve — $4.2 billion — was a bit on the high side. But when Fulbright argued that "we've got to give them something to cut," Hickenlooper loyally went along.

Again, when the leadership accidentally discovered the power of the new surge of know-nothingism in the Senate, a hasty strategy meeting to discuss the best blocking tactics was strictly bipartisan, and was even held in the Republican cloakroom. The Majority and Minority Leaders, Sens. Mike Mansfield of Montana and Everett Dirksen of Illinois, joined with Fulbright and Hickenlooper in the decision to make a voluntary preliminary cut of $385 million in the committee total, in order to forestall worse cuts by the new know-nothings.

Since then, through the long, squalid, and still unfinished struggle on the Senate floor, Dirksen, Hickenlooper, and a good many other Republicans have continued to stand four-square for national-mindedness and bipartisanship.

Meanwhile, the President's bill has been under bitter, persistent partisan attack by Democratic Senators, with a group of "liberal" Democrats, headed by the ineffable Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon leading the attackers. Even that famous Republican conservative, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, had been kinder to the foreign aid program than the new Democratic know-nothings, for he has at least been absent for almost every key vote.

The most dramatic vote, though not the closest, was on Morse's motion to gut the bill for good and all, by recommitting it to the Foreign Relations Committee. Twenty-eight other Senators voted with the Oregon paragon, and 20 of them were Democrats.

Another Morse amendment, to cut the Development Loan Fund by $25 million, carried by a vote of 42 to 40, and 24 of the Morse adherents were Democrats. Embittered Southerners, like Richard Russell of Georgia and Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, have of course followed Morse, gladly yielding him the leadership on this occasion.

Morse's deputy commander in the attack has been the old New Dealer from Alaska, Sen. Ernest Gruening. So-called liberals who have joined Morse are Frank Church of Idaho, Albert Gore of Tennessee, the former Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare in the Kennedy Cabinet, Abe Ribicoff of Connecticut, Stuart Symington of Missouri, and Stephen Young of Ohio, plus Henry Jackson of Washington and William Proxmire of Wisconsin on the fund cut.

Besides trying to gut the foreign aid bill in every other way, the new know-nothings have put forward an astonishing number of back-seat-driving amendments. "Some people," Sen. Hickenlooper has said grimly, "want to turn the U. S. Senate into another Committee on the Conduct of the War, which helped the South more than Robert E. Lee."

The result, beyond much doubt, would be a half-crippled foreign aid program. The Alliance for Progress, for instance, will be lucky to get $255 million — apparently because Sen. Morse and his friends are reluctant to allow the United States to spend as much on the prevention of Communism in Latin America as the Communist bloc is now spending for the sole purpose of propping up Fidel Castro in Cuba.

If the effort in Viet Nam is not weakened, all other military aid programs will have to be cut drastically. Thus old and tried allies which cannot otherwise afford their present levels of defense, like Turkey, Greece, Nationalist China, and South Korea, will be hit where it hurts most — apparently because Sens. Symington and Ribicoff think it is a bad bargain to add this strength to our side at one-tenth the cost of an equal number of American troops.

Finally, development loans, which offer the best hope of future progress and are also to be repaid in the end, will be cut to the point of grave damage to American foreign policy. In short, the national interest is under heavy attack. It would be more comprehensible if the attack had a partisan motive; but peevishness, alas, is the only motive now identifiable.

Rep. Jamie Whitten, Mississippi Democrat, recently introduced a bill to help a fellow in his district. The measure would authorize and direct the secretary of the Treasury to pay to S. S. Rolfe of Ashland, Miss., $150 for "the death of his heifer in 1962 which died as a result of consuming part of a weather balloon of the United States which landed on his farm."

Garrett National St. Peter's Votes Dividend, Plans Play Tournament To Sell Stock

Bank's Financial Status Reported

OAKLAND—Following on the heels of the announcement of the third banking office of the Garrett National Bank to be opened Wednesday in Bloomington came word this week that the stockholders of the local bank had voted overwhelmingly in favor of the granting of a stock dividend and the sale of additional bank stock.

Upon recommendation of the board of directors and subsequent ratification by the stockholders, the bank is declaring a 15 per cent stock dividend to present stockholders, and proceeding with the sale of 1,500 additional shares or ten per cent of the capital stock issued as of October 11, 1963.

The stock dividend which will result in present stockholders getting an additional share of stock for every six and two-thirds now owned will, with the sale of the additional stock, raise the capital stock of The Garrett National to $167,500.

Spokesmen for the bank said that present stockholders would have first opportunity to purchase the new issue in an amount proportional to the amount now owned. Any stocks not purchased would be offered to the public. However, judging by the response to date, it was considered unlikely that many shares would be available. In commenting upon the decision to declare a dividend and issue additional stock, spokesmen said the move would result in stronger capital structure more commensurate with the size of the institution, and would enable the bank to raise its lending limit to $62,000.

This marks the third time in recent years that Garrett National, now with assets in excess of $8,000,000, has raised its capital stock. In 1959 capital stock was increased from $50,000 to $100,000 by issuance of a $50,000 stock dividend and in 1960 it was increased to $150,000 by the sale of 5,000 shares of common stock. In spite of these stock dividend and sales, the market value of the bank stock has steadily increased with current market value being approximately $36 per share.

Allegany Seeks 7th Straight Win, Hosts Annapolis Today

Bobcats Play Night Contest At Portsmouth

Frederick College Host; Bruce To Play Panthers At Keyser

Allegany High School's Campers will play Annapolis High School today at 1:30 p.m. at the local stadium and Coach Ed Schwarz's grididers will be striving for their seventh straight victory before they go into battle with Fort Hill High School on Thanksgiving Day for the Cumberland Valley Athletic League and city championships.

Annapolis is appearing on the Allegany football schedule for the first time, owns a 4-4 record and will be the underdog in today's contest.

Among Annapolis High's victims are Cambridge, 19-14, Southern of Lothian 33-0 and Oxon Hill 26-0. The invaders have lost to Wicomico of Salisbury 25-6, Bel Air 26-7, Andover 25-7 and Howard 7-6.

Since bowing to Martinsburg (14-7) on September 13, the Campers have beaten North Hagerstown, LaSalle, Frederick and Beall in that order and go into this afternoon's tilt with a 7-1 record.

The loss to Martinsburg, incidentally, is the only setback suffered by the Campers in their last 13 games. Allegany's record is 10-2-2 since the loss at the hands of South Hagerstown October 6, 1962. The tie games were with Frederick and Fort Hill last year.

Bruce Hosts Panthers

Coach Pete Ladigo's Bruce High School Bulldogs windup their second season on the gridiron by playing the Charles Town Panthers today at 1:30 p.m. at Keyser.

Bruce knocked off Musselman 14-13 and LaSalle in its last two outings, has won four and lost five and needs a victory today to finish the campaign in the .500 circle.

Kenny Sims' Charles Town Panthers invade Keyser with a 3-6 record. Among Charles Town's defeats were Hancock 13-7, Keyser 7-0, Petersburg 13-6 and Romney 21-14. Bruce bowed to Hancock 6-0 and Romney 26-13. Charles Town drubbed Berkeley Springs, 42-7, and Bruce also whipped the Indians, 21-0.

Buckets At Portsmouth

Frostburg State College's Bobcats appears in third game on today's slate for area grid teams. Coach Ron Van Ryswyk's team travels to Portsmouth, Va., for its first meeting with Frederick College. This is a nocturnal game and is set for 8 o'clock.

The most-talked-about player on the Frederick squad is Wade Traynham, a 6-foot-3, 250-pounder, who has kicked 7 of 11 field goal tries and nine extra points for the Virginians as they won five of their first eight games, one a 30-12 decision over Hampden-Sydney. Traynham has booted goals for distances of 52, 39 and 37 yards for Coach Frank Madigan's team.

Frostburg State (5-3) lowers the curtain on its third football season next Saturday when it plays Georgetown University at Washington Square Garden.

Elorde, Allotey Fight At Manila

MANILA (AP) — The way challenger Love Allotey of Ghana sees it there won't be any love lost between him and champion Flash Elorde when they meet for the world's junior lightweight title in nearby Quezon City Saturday night.

"I hate anybody who gets inside the same ring with me," the 26-year-old African said Friday, "and I want to get even with Elorde for beating me. It was a bad decision."

Allotey, a London, England resident, recently lost a close decision to the Filipino in a 10-round non-title match.

Elorde is a 7-5 favorite to retain the crown he won three years ago and has defended successfully five times since. The 28-year-old champion has a 70-16-2 record.

This will be Allotey's initial world title fight and only his third 15-round bout.

Otto Anderson Dies

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Otto Anderson, who as a hurdler was a member of the U.S. 1924 Olympic Track Team, died Friday of a heart attack.

Anderson, 63, who was cross country track coach at Pasadena City College, was a football and track star in his undergraduate days at the University of Southern California. He had been with City College since 1935.

BRUISING BATTLE FOR MIDWAY — The top National Football League clash of the current season, the Chicago Bears and the Green Bay Packers, tied for the Western Division lead at 8-1, comes up Sunday at Chicago with both clubs in good physical shape. The Bears edged the Packers on their first encounter on September 15 by the score of 10-3.

Physical Fitness Day Program To Precede Alco-Annapolis Game

Activities Begin Twenty Minutes Before Kickoff

from various public schools will demonstrate some of the physical fitness activities carried on in the county.

The show will begin with mass calisthenics, performed to the accompaniment of a recording of "Chicken Fat," a song composed by Meredith Willson especially for the President's Council on Youth Fitness. The number is sung by Robert Preston, backed by Bernard Green's orchestra and chorus.

Something on the order of a multi-ring circus will follow, with elementary and junior high school students engaging in various games and skills of the fall program.

The activities and their directors include push ball, Waller L. Bowers; tumbling, Charles Waltman; gymnastics, Mrs. James Kelly and Mrs. Doris Giorostenko, and line soccer, Miss Eleazar Rizer.

While all this is taking place on the stadium turf, seventh and eighth grade boys from Allegany and Annapolis at the Stadium get more than a football game for their money. ### Fred Beier Scores TD In 2nd Quarter

DETROIT (UPI) — Underdog University of Detroit penetrated Xavier's end zone for the first time in four games this season Friday night on a second period plunge by Fred Beier and made it stand up for a 6-0 victory over the Musketeers.

Beier, who gained 54 yards to become the nation's leading rusher with 766 yards, bucked over from a yard out to cap a 77-yard second period drive in 10 plays for the only score of the game.

McKinley, Ralston Win Doubles Title In New South Wales

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI) — Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston won the New South Wales tennis doubles title Friday with a 6-4, 6-2, 6-4 victory over Australian Davis Cup stars Roy Emerson and Neale Fraser.

McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., and Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., took 64 minutes to wrap up the title. The Wimbledon doubles champions were expected to be named the United States tandem in the challenge round against Australia at Adelaide next month.

Fraser and Emerson were two of nine players named Friday to the Aussie Davis Cup squad. Many expect the two aces to be the singles starters against the U.S. Fred Stolle, Ken Fletcher, Owen Davidson, Martin Mulligan, John Newcombe, Tony Roche and Bob Hewitt also were selected to the team from which choices will be made for title participation.

Celtic cornermen John Havlicek, Tom Heinsohn and Willie Naulls, along with guard Sam Jones, contributed 20-point-plus performances to help Boston open a four-game lead over idle Cincinnati in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

The win was the Celtics 10th in 11 games.

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Celtics ignited a late third-quarter scoring burst and continued their winning ways Friday night with a 133-116 victory over a stubborn New York Knickerbocker quintet.

Defeats Thornton On Split Decision

New York (UPI) — Greigorio Peralta, heavyweight champion of Argentina stretched his unbeaten string to 43 bouts Friday night by pounding out an unpopular 10-round split decision over California's light heavyweight contender Wayne Thornton in their nationally televised fight at Madison Square Garden.

The 2,500 fans boozed the decision for several minutes because blondish Thornton of Fresno, Calif., had finished the stronger and had knocked the rangy, dark-haired Peralta back onto his heels twice in the 10th round after giving Gregorio a pasting in the ninth.

However, a poll of 15 sports writers at the ringside showed that 11 favored Peralta, three Thornton and one a draw.

There were no knockdowns, but the fight was one of the best staged in the Garden in many months. At the finish, Peralta was bleeding slightly from a cut on the upper lid of his left eye, and there was a trickle of blood on Thornton's left cheek.

The two judges favored Peralta on a rounds basis as follows: Tony Rossi, 6-3-1, and Artie Aidala, 6-4. But referee Arthur Mercante had Thornton ahead, 5-4-1. The United Press International favored Peralta, 5-4-1, because of his stronger showing from the third through the seventh rounds.

Peralta, who had gone into the ring favored at 11-5, registered his 42 victory in 45 fights, which includes two draws and one defeat.

Ordinance Would Outlaw Water Waste

Major Line Leak Repaired Here

The Mayor and Council will be asked Monday to adopt an ordinance outlawing the unnecessary use of city water during shortages.

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light said investigations by the Water Department reveal that the "honor system" ban placed into effect November 4 is not working and that it was found necessary to take sterner action to protect the area's water supply.

The ordinance prepared yesterday by City Attorney Hugh A. McMullen provides penalties ranging from $25 to $100.

The ordinance would prohibit the use of water for hosing of grass, sidewalks or automobiles or any other use of hoses except in emergencies, specifically that no gas station, used or new car dealer or car washing business can use city water for washing cars during shortages.

Supplies Decrease

The city's water reserves in Lake Gordon and Lake Koon have been declining since the "honor system" ban was invoked, and last week's rains did not suffice to replenish the water supplies.

Since Monday, both of the reservoirs have dropped slightly—Lake Gordon by five inches to five feet, 10 inches below the spillway, and Lake Koon by one foot, to 17 feet below.

Commissioner Light yesterday reported that crews from Lake Gordon headed by foreman Ray Nixon yesterday completed repairs to two leaks in a 36-inch transmission line near Willowbrook Road, about 200 feet east of the Water Department warehouse.

Major Leak Stopped

He said Mr. Nixon reported that one of the leaks was major and was resulting in the loss of an estimated 500,000 gallons of water daily. A second smaller leak was stopped by the crews.

In cases of major leaks such as the ones found, crews must place gaskets, held in place by steel bands, over the leak and then build forms so the repaired spot can be encased in concrete.

Apartment Unit Bid Studied By Zoning Board

The Board of Zoning Appeals last night promised an early decision to the appeal of C. E. Burgess, 628 Washington Street, for a permit to use lots in the 600 block of Washington Street for a six-unit apartment house.

Plans for the structure were heard last night as the board sat in City Hall with James C. Gardner, chairman, presiding.

No protestants appeared at the hearing.

The local man related plans to locate the two-story brick veneer structure on Lots 48-51 of the 600 block which fronts 135 feet on Washington Street.

The board said it will consider a number of factors, including fire protection, light and air, conformity with the neighborhood and the need for the apartments in that area.

The area is zoned Residential A but Mr. Burgess said multiple unit dwellings predominate in the 500 and 600 blocks of the street.

The board expressed considerable interest in plans for off-street parking which Mr. Burgess said would be provided.

Births

Airman 2c and Mrs. William Lohnas announce the birth of a daughter yesterday at Robbins Air Force Base, Warner Robins, Ga. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. David Ogilvie, Bowling Green, and the maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Lohnas.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wooley announce the birth of a daughter October 24 at Fort Pierce, Fla. The mother is the former Verna Margaret Hosslerode, Corriganville.

Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Santmyre, RD 1, Oldtown, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. David W. Mallow, RD 2, Baltimore Pike, a son yesterday.

Suit Filed Over Accident

A former local man has filed a damage suit in Allegany County Circuit for injuries he sustained in an auto accident on November 17, 1961.

Thomas R. McCarthy, who now resides in New York City, filed the action against James R. Wisjalowski, RD 3, Bedford, Pa., and George W. Schute, 633 Bedford Street.

McCarthy was a passenger in the car operated by Wisjalowski which was traveling west on U. S. Route 40. Schute also was headed east on Route 40 and was attempting to pass the Wisjalowski vehicle when the accident occurred, according to the declaration.

McCarthy was employed at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory when the accident occurred two years ago.

Friends Report Goldstein Will Run For Senate

To Make Statement Within Two Weeks

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein was reported Friday to have definitely decided to seek Democratic nomination to the U. S. Senate next year.

Friends said he will make the announcement at a formal reception to be held at the Emerson Hotel in Baltimore the week of Nov. 24.

Goldstein refused to confirm or deny the reports about his candidacy but did say: "I will make a statement within two weeks."

It was understood that hundreds of invitations are being prepared for mailing this weekend to political figures, personal friends, news representatives and others.

Goldstein acknowledged more than a month ago that he was seriously considering making the race for his party's nomination to the seat held by Republican J. Glenn Bell. His final decision was reached only recently, friends said.

Would Clear Field

Political associates of Gov. Tawes have been trying to persuade the 50-year-old Prince Frederick Democrat to run for the Senate in hopes it would clear the field for Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan to seek nomination to the governorship in 1966.

Goldstein has long been regarded as a major contender for governor when Tawes completes his second term.

If elected to the Senate, he still could make the race for governor unless he agreed not to do so. If defeated for Senate, he would remain in his elective post of comptroller two more years.

Goldstein's principal opposition in a Democratic primary may come from U. S. Atty. Joseph D. Tydings, who has not yet indicated whether he will run. Tydings is a close personal friend of President Kennedy and his family. Gov. Tawes and U. S. Sen. Daniel B. Brewster recently obtained assurance from the President that he would not intervene in the Senate primary in 1966.

Four of the six branches had heavier October circulation this year than a year ago.

Leading the circulation pack last month was the bookmobile, which distributed 1107 books compared with 6438 in October 1962.

In second place last month was the Pennsylvania Avenue School branch with 5704 books compared with 4939 in October a year ago.

Oddly, the main library on Prospect Square was only third with 5104 volumes, compared with 5332 in October 1962.

Adult circulation in the main library was better than a year ago but the juvenile circulation was down appreciably.

Adult fiction circulation was up from 1496 to 1940.

Adult non-fiction increased from 1399 to 1636.

Juvenile fiction was down from 1881 to 1174 and Juvenile non-fiction was down from 756 to 354.

Frostburg branch circulation was 4660 last month, up slightly from the 4608 of October 1962.

Also higher was the LaVale branch, 2094 compared with 1836 in October a year ago.

The only other branch besides the main library down from October a year ago was Westernport, down from 1710 to 1648.

County-wide circulation was up in three of the four classifications.

Only juvenile non-fiction was down, from 5243 to 4501.

Adult fiction advanced from 4172 to 5294, adult non-fiction moved up from 3759 to 4366 and juvenile fiction advanced from 11,880 to 12,156.

There were 502 new library registrants in October. They included 245 at the main library, 46 at LaVale, 46 at Frostburg, 30 at Westernport, 66 at the bookmobile and 69 at Penn Avenue.

Circulation At Library Hits 26,317

October circulation in the Allegany County Library totaled 26,317, according to Rollin P. Marquis, director.

Last month's total was 12,603 books more than the October 1962 circulation of 25,054. Longer hours for most of the branches of the library, effective October 14, are believed partly responsible for the heavier circulation last month.

LaVale PTA To Hear Trends

William S. Lewis of Annapolis will speak on the new mathematics programs at LaVale School in the second in a series of five programs based on the theme "New Trends in Elementary Education" at the PTA meeting next Thursday.

Mr. Lewis is a representative of Laidlaw Brothers Inc., which publishes textbooks used in the new mathematics curriculum at the school.

Room visitation is set for 7:30 p. m., 30 minutes before the meeting starts.

Following the program, Kenneth A. Wolf, president, will conduct the business meeting. Reports will be heard from Jimmie D. Flanagan on the recent car wash project, Mrs. Glenn Kauffman reporting on the successful October Fall Festival and the skating party, and from Miss Alma Logsdon, principal, on the Education Week observance.

Every member canvass captains and workers will eat lunch in the parish house basement early Sunday afternoon and then make calls upon those who failed to attend church Sunday. Albert D. LaRue is chairman of the canvass this year.

Faces Charge Of False Pretense

Gerald Dawson, 26, of Morantown, was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Lewis E. Tyree and lodged in the County Jail on a false pretense charge.

The Morantown man was arrested in Bellevue Heights here on a charge of cashing a worthless check for $43.

The home is to be served by a septic tank system under a Health Department permit.

McCarthy was a passenger in the car operated by Wisjalowski which was traveling west on U. S. Route 40. Schute also was headed east on Route 40 and was attempting to pass the Wisjalowski vehicle when the accident occurred, according to the declaration.

McCarthy was employed at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory when the accident occurred two years ago.

Permit For Dwelling Is Issued Here

A permit to build a one-story dwelling at 940 Williams Road was issued yesterday to Betty Jane Twigg, Jane Frazier Village.

It will be 30 by 32 feet and of frame construction.

The home is to be served by a septic tank system under a Health Department permit.

Race Issue Drawback To Road Tour Of Play

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I don't think the country is ready for it," says Barbara McNair of "No Strings," which has failed to repeat its Broadway success on the road.

"No Strings," a lavishly produced show with music by Richard Rodgers, concerns the Parisian romance of a white American writer and a Negro American model. Despite middling reviews, it ran for a highly profitable year and a half in New York, where Richard Kiley and Diahann Carroll were its stars. No problem piece, it is lively, escapist entertainment. The race issue is scarcely mentioned.

For the road tour the show was re-cast with film star Howard Keel and Miss McNair, a successful night club singer. She described the tour's progress.

"We played to packed houses in Boston, and all of us were very excited. But as we started traveling, business kept getting worse and worse, especially when we got near the South. The worst came in St. Louis and Kansas City."

"Sometimes in Kansas City we played to audiences of 200 or 100—in a theater that holds 2,500! Everywhere we went there were walkouts, but no outcries, thank God. You could feel the hostility from some of the audiences. I understand there were many complaining phone calls to the theater."

"I also got some mail along the lines of 'How dare you kiss a white man on the stage?'" and

"My entire party of 10 walked out." Plus a lot of abusive words of course.

The morale of the company kept getting lower and lower as we crossed the country until we finally had to have pep talks. Now we hear rumors that the show will fold here, although there are hopes that things will pick up when we reach San Francisco."

The show is scheduled to play Des Moines, Minneapolis and Chicago after San Francisco, but the cast hears rumors that it will jump directly to Chicago—if it doesn't fold entirely.

Miss McNair said she intends to stick with the show to the end and has no regrets about taking the assignment.

"Far from it," she said. "It was a wonderful break for me."

She is a Racine, Wis., girl who studied serious music at the Chicago Conservatory and UCLA. "My mother's idea," she explained. "I always knew I wanted to be a pop singer."

English Gal Looks Like Liz Taylor

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—If you can't get Elizabeth Taylor for a movie, the next best thing is to find a gal who looks enough like her to fool Eddie Fisher. Impossible?

Nq. Director Sammy Fuller has found just such beauty in the person of Marie Devereux, an English girl who worked as Liz's double in "Cleopatra." She is mi taken for the gorgeous Taylor wherever she goes, and for that reason co-stars in "The Naked Kiss."

During her 13 months as a double for Liz in Rome the two actresses never became friendly. As Marie explains it: Elizabeth is not the kind of woman who makes a lot of friends with other females. I'm the same way. She was polite, but never friendly.

It's possible that every time Liz saw Marie she thought she was looking into a mirror.

London Born

Like Liz, Marie was born in London. Unlike Liz, Marie was born a cockney.

"I don't purposely try to look like Elizabeth," said Marie, her hazel eyes twinkling with humor. "I was just born that way."

"I'll never forget the day on the set when Eddie Fisher walked up behind me and said, 'Liz, honey, do you mind...' He stopped, did a double take, and then apologized for mistaking me for his wife."

Richard Burton, she reports, never made that mistake.

"Actually I was an insurance policy for Liz more than anything else," she explained. "If during the latter stages of the picture, she had refused to continue in the role of Cleopatra, or if she had been unable to, they could have used me in enough long and medium shots to finish the movie."

"In one scene on the barge I doubled for Liz and it still remains in the picture. It was a long shot, but it's me."

Made British Movies

This is Marie's second picture in Hollywood, but she has appeared in more than 25 movies in England. The British, she points out, rarely mention her resemblance to Liz—too well bred, you know. But this country she is constantly reminded by strangers.

On closer inspection one notes that there are definite differences between the two beauties.

Elizabeth's eyes are violet, for instance. But Marie is younger and she's more generously endowed in the curve department than her lookalike, if such a thing is possible.

Marie has managed to lose her English accent, only occasionally lapsing into British pronunciation of words like "cawnt" for can't.

"I've been in Hollywood ten months," she concluded, "and I hope to stay here now that I've received a work permit. Nice as it is, I have a complaint. Almost everyone who discovers I worked as Liz's double in 'Cleopatra' asks me, 'What's the REAL story of the Elizabeth Taylor-Richard Burton Romance over there?'

Stars Of Today Lack Glamor Of Harlow, Garbo And Gable

STARS AND STARS—Greta Garbo and Jean Harlow were acknowledged greats of their day. Even such prominent actresses as Doris Day and Elizabeth Taylor may never succeed in rivaling such stardom as this. Star system losing out in Hollywood films.

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK—(NEA)—This, apparently, is the era of the pock-marked star.

The big names in today's entertainment firmament seem to have much less glow-power than their counterparts of yesterday. Doris Day and Elizabeth Taylor may shine their darndest, but they'll never have the magic of Jean Harlow or Great Garbo. Rock Hudson is no Clark Gable, James Arness no Gary Cooper, Hayley Mills no Shirley Temple.

Are stars simply less glamorous than before—or is the changing industry making the institution of stardom less vital?

"I don't need stars in a movie today," says director Otto Preminger. "All I need is a good story."

The public goes to the box office to see a story, not a star."

"Television is breeding a race of domesticated stars," says Farley Granger. "You see the old movies of Harlow and Gable on the Late Show—they were STARS. They were big. No more. We're not getting people like that nowadays."

Those are the two sides to the question. But there is more to it than those simple statements.

First, just what is a star? Today the word is bandied about loosely. But at least on Broadway, it is closely defined. A star is a person whose name appears above the title of a play. Thus, if a billing reads:

Norton Yucca and Filomena Pflug in "Last Night, Tomorrow" with Hal Intaglio and Gwyneth Esteban

Mr. Yucca and Miss Pflug are stars and Mr. Intaglio and Miss Esteban are classed as featured players.

But movies and television don't hew to the definition. They toss the word around so loosely that it has come to be virtually meaningless. All an actor needs is a card in the Screen Actors' Guild and a press agent and he's called a star.

There are, however, stars and there are Stars. Genuine Stars still exist. It is a combination of box office draw, front page news value and acting ability which sets them apart. These three qualities are often referred to, by theatrical sophisticates, as "chemistry."

"Elizabeth Taylor," they will say, "has the chemistry that makes a star."

Two actors, of roughly the same ability and the same appearance can start at the same time. The public takes to one, not the other. That is star-chemistry working.

And it continues to work today. But the products it is creating are not quite as magical as they once were.

Preminger says it is because the public is more discerning and cares more for a good story than for the actor playing the part. Granger thinks the raw material is not there any more.

Palance Has Misgivings About Show

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The show's rating grows each week. The network and sponsors seem pleased. And is Jack Palance?

"No," he says. "I'm disappointed."

The rough-hewn actor is major domo of "The Greatest Show on Earth." The new ABC television show scored among the top 40 in the first major audience rating (it was 39) something such stars as Danny Kaye, Judy Garland and Jerry Lewis couldn't do.

"This show isn't developing the way I had hoped it would," Palance commented during lunch in an art-filled dressing room. "When 'The Greatest Show on Earth' was first proposed, it appealed to me. The very title indicated circus action, fast pace, flip talk. I believed I would be getting a chance to do something light for a change."

"But it hasn't been light. What do we get? Stories about men going blind, men dying in the ring, arms being torn off by angry bears."

"When we did the pilot film, there was a choice of two scripts—one a drama and one a comedy. We did the drama and have never gotten around to the comedy."

Palance said he has made his representations to the bosses in no uncertain terms. There has been no great change in thinking so far, but they have allowed him to revive the comedy script and work with a writer on it.

The actor was in a good position to voice his feelings last week. Guest star was Lucille Ball, president of the producing company.

As soon as Palance finished the show, he flew to Paris, where he spent Saturday and Sunday filming love scenes for a movie he made with Brigitte Bardot. Then he dashed back to resume the series.

Lanchester In Cast

Sonja Henie Finds Little Skating Time

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I still like to skate, but"—Sonja Henie shuddered—"It's so cold out there on that ice."

The world's most famous ice skater was explaining why she devotes little time to the sport that brought her movie stardom and a sizable fortune.

"It's hard to find a rink to practice," said Miss Henie, still perky and petite. "The only place I can find here is in the valley, and I have to go in the morning, when the public isn't using the rink. Then the ice has been sitting all night, and oh, it's cold!"

"I don't like to be cold. And it takes me at least six weeks of hard work every day to get back in skating trim. I don't want to work that hard any more. I'll never make another tour. To make the investment pay off, I would have to stay on the road for six months—and why?"

"I still skate when I go to Switzerland. And I might get back in training for a television show. But otherwise no. I've got too many other things that keep me busy."

Her major project is assembling some $2 million worth of modern paintings which she and her husband, shipping tycoon Niels Ovstad, have shipped from their Oslo home.

The paintings, as well as her collection of skating trophies, will be on public view soon.

Scription because you begin to rely on the camera to do the job."

Three of Wallace's best sellers—"The Chapman Report," "The Prize" and "The Three Sirens"—have drawn blasts for being rife with sex. But next to Henry Miller and a dozen other authors, Wallace is a boy scout.

"I'm really tired of my reputation for writing about sex," he said, sounding weary indeed.

"I'm sensitive about it."

"Right now I am writing a new book, titled 'The Man' and there's hardly a word about sex in it. I've said all I want to say about sex for the time being. Maybe I'll come back to it some day, but for the time being I've had it."

Frequently novelists come out in print rapping movies that bear little resemblance to their creative works of art.

Wallace looks like a novelist should. He has graying, wavy hair, a benign smile and he smokes a pipe. There's a tweedy appearance about him and an air of placid relaxation.

"I was somewhat disappointed in the movie version of 'The Chapman Report,'" he acknowledged, "but as a person who wrote screenplays I know my books aren't easy to make into pictures. I recently saw a preview of 'The Prize' and found it a slick, exciting melodrama. I'd rather they had used more of the book, but it wasn't possible."

Frequent novelists come out in print rapping movies that bear little resemblance to their creative works of art.

"It might be possible to write a novel purposefully aimed for pictures, but I can't do it. I do this writing for movies teaches you discipline. But it also is harmful to your powers of de-

MARJORIE LORD

CAROL LAWRENCE

Stars Comment On Role Training Has In Career

By DICK KLEINER

Danny Thomas' announcement definite, this time, he insists—that he will quit his own show after this season leaves his television wife, Marjorie Lord, as calm as a tranquilized Cheshire cat.

"When it happens," she says, "it will leave me at liberty. But I'm of two minds about that. I enjoyed doing the show and I enjoyed the pay check. But I am primarily a stage actress. That's what I was trained to do and that's my first love."

"So I can't help wondering what will happen to me when I have to go out and get another job. It may be more fun and more rewarding."

When the show folds, she may have her stage fling but she thinks that eventually she'll do another series.

"But I won't play a wife," she says, "at least not at the start. I feel that wives on television shows are not as strong as they should be. Let's face it—in most American homes, the kids come in the door and they yell, 'Mommy, not 'Daddy.'

"I get very angry about the weakness of women on television. I think there should be more series starring women. And in strong roles. Maybe even in adventure shows. Television producers are so funny—when Loretta Young's series went off and Barbara Stanwyck's effort at a series was not successful, they all jumped to the conclusion that all television shows starring women in strong roles would fail."

Marjorie Lord doesn't see why a good series starring a woman could not succeed. She's willing to try.

Triple-threat Carol Lawrence—dancer, singer, actress—says that her dancing background helps her acting.

"To be a dancer," she says, "you must learn muscle control and be able to stand pain. I can do that. On Wagon Train, when I played a Chinese woman, I had to hobble on feet which had supposedly been bound. It was very painful. I'm sure only a girl who had been a dancer could have done it."

Carol says she has fallen and hurt herself several times while dancing. She's sprained her ankle and almost broken a kneecap.

"That's good," she says. "It taught me to be fearless."

And fearlessness has paid off for Carol, especially in her new night club act. She sings, dances and cavorts atop an eight-foot ladder, which is rolled on casters by two dancers. At one point, it whirls around while Carol poses prettily atop and sings and does an arabesque or two.

"Bob," she says, referring to husband Robert Goulet, "got on my ladder once. He went up a few rungs and then got off. 'That's it,' he said. He couldn't do an act on a ladder."

Male Under Attack Channel 5 Program

Much has been written and said about the changing male-female relationship in the United States, and the emergence of the "strong woman" in this country. To crystallize this wide-ranging subject, a distinguished panel of writers and psychologists headed by Marnie Mannes, will examine "The American Male Under Attack" on the "Under Discussion" program, being telecast on WTTG-TV Sunday, November 17th (9:00 to 11:00 p.m.)

Skiing Is Attraction In Smoky Mountains

Skiing has moved south as a major attraction from December to March in North Carolina's Great Smoky and Blue Ridge Mountains.

Established within the past two years and reopening for the 1963-64 season with expanded facilities are Cataloochee Ski Slopes in the Great Smokies near Waynesville and the Blowing Rock Ski Lodge at Blowing Rock in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Northwestern North Carolina. A new ski area near Blowing Rock will be opened in mid-December at Hound Ears Golf and Ski Club.

In areas long famous as spring-through-autumn playgrounds, the North Carolina ski slopes are at altitudes where winter nights are almost cold enough to permit operation of snow-manufacturing equipment. This equipment is used to supplement natural snowfalls at Cataloochee and Blowing Rock. It will also be used at Hound Ears.

In addition to slopes served by lifts, tows and snow-making equipment, Cataloochee and Blowing Rock serve meals in spacious rustic restaurants, rent ski equipment, and offer ski instruction. Overnight lodging is available at nearby motor lodges and inns which now remain open all winter.

Cataloochee, a popular dude ranch from spring through fall will keep some of its cottages open this winter and continue to make overnight reservations for skiers at Maggie Valley and Waynesville. Accommodations in Blowing Rock and Boone can be arranged through the Ski Lodge. The developers of Hound Ears Golf and Ski Club expect to have lodgings for about 80 skiers in the club buildings by the time the ski season begins, and will also operate a restaurant and ski shop and offer ski instruction.

Cataloochee is 13 miles west of Waynesville and 40 miles west of Asheville and is reached by a three-mile secondary road connecting with U. S. 19 in Maggie Valley. The road has been widened and re-surfaced. Length of the ski slopes are 1,300 feet, 1,000 feet, 475 feet and 350 feet. All are served by rope tows. The ski area is at an elevation of about 5,000 feet. Inquiries should be directed to Thomas W. Alexander, president, Waynesville, N.C.

Blowing Rock has four slopes, ranging from 250 to 2,000 and served by a T-Bar tow and three rope tows. The area is at an elevation of about 4,000 feet, one and three-fourths miles off U. S. 221-321 between Blowing Rock and Boone. Inquiries should be directed to M. E. Thalheimer, presi-

Airline Offers Lower Rates To Nassau

A new low roundtrip jet fare of $38 between Miami and Nassau will be inaugurated by Pan American Airways on December 7.

The 17-day economy class excursion fare is $4 less than the year-round $42 jet fare. It eliminates differential charges, reducing travel cost by jet to the same level as for other aircraft.

Nassau is only 188 miles from Miami or 30 minutes by Jet Clipper. Pan American's four jet flights daily between Miami and Nassau will be augmented by additional air services starting December 15.

On December 16, Pan American will introduce a New York-Nassau 17-day jet excursion fare of $147, a savings of $15 from the regular $162 roundtrip economy ticket. The excursion fare provides for economy class travel on Monday through Thursday. Fares are subject to government approval.

Art Gallery Has Unusual Yule Cards

The Walters Art Gallery in Baltimore has added 21 new items to its list of Christmas cards published by the gallery.

The gallery now has 43 designs in its catalog of Christmas cards which are now on sale at the gallery.

The new works, ranging in price from a low of five cents to a top price of 15 cents, include works by unknown artists and such famous ones as the 15th-16th century German, Albrecht Durer.

The cards are ideal for anyone looking for the unusual in Christmas cards this year. Last year the gallery sold over 200,000 cards. Additional information may be obtained from the Walters Art Gallery, Charles and Centre streets, Baltimore.

Plays Listed In Cities

Legitimate theatre goers have a variety of plays to select from in the metropolitan areas near Cumberland.

"Seidman and Son" is now playing at the National Theatre in Washington and features Sam Levene. The play opened November 11 and will continue through next week.

In Pittsburgh, "Camelot," will be presented nightly through November 30 at the Nixon Theatre. This popular Broadway production features Louis Hayward, Jan Moody and Arthur Treacher.

Traffic Jams Occur All Over World

By MURRAY J. BROWN

LONDON (UPI) — The American finds traffic jams are as commonplace in London, Rome and Paris as in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and most other major cities in the United States.

He also learns that he must cope with some related problems in Europe that he doesn't face at home — driving or walking.

True, there is no language difficulty to add to the complications for the average American visitor in London as in other European cities.

But there are road signs and automotive nomenclature which still may seem strange to the American making his first visit.

For example, a "flyover" is not an aerial display but what is commonly known in the United States as an overpass. "Diversion ahead" doesn't mean some kind of entertainment is in store but merely that one is about to come to a "roundabout" which is a traffic circle and not a merry-go-round.

And there are no elephants or clowns in Piccadilly Circus, which is a major road hub in central London.

Then cars in England have bumpers, bonnets, boots and windscreens instead of fenders, hoods, trunks and windshields. Service stations sell petrol, not gas.

It may not take too long to catch on to this part of the Queen's English. The major problem is adjusting to the strange Alice-through-the-looking-glass sensation of keeping to the left, walking and motorizing.

Afoot or behind the wheel on a car, Americans find they must reverse many traffic safety habits picked up over years of to the right.

The pedestrian must remember to look to the right for oncoming traffic before stepping off the curb instead of to the left as he normally does at home.

And just strolling along Regent Street or other main thoroughfares, the American begins to feel like a salmon swimming upstream as he bucks the tides of keep-to-the-left Kondoners.

But it is when the visitor from the United States slips behind the wheel of a car for the first time that he realizes how different things really are.

If it is car equipped for domestic use, everything will be operated with the left hand, the accelerator and brake pedal with the left foot, the clutch with the right foot.

It takes time getting used to. Learning how to drive such a car in London's heavy traffic can lead to some interesting—and exciting—experiences, according to an American who survived.

Even driving a car equipped with the familiar left-hand drive, the American finds its no cinch.

Keeping to the left side of the road instead of to the right is only one problem—although it is the most important and the first rule to learn and remember, naturally.

But among other things, American motorists will look automatically to the right side of the road for informational signs and guideposts. Naturally, in England they are posted on the left side.

CAST REHEARSALS FOR PLAY — Rehearsals for the Arthur Miller drama, "All My Sons," are being held for the show's opening performance on Wednesday, November 20, at 8:15 p.m. in Compton Hall Auditorium at Frostburg State College. Left to right are Elliot Weiner as Joe Keller; Alle Brinsmade as Ann Deever; Madeline as Kate Keller and David Davis as Chris Keller. The play, which is being directed by Miss Dorothy Stone White of the Speech and Drama Department at the college, also will be presented November 21 at 8:15 p.m.

Greenbrier Plans Events At Christmas

At the Greenbrier, in the hills of West Virginia, preparations are now in progress for a gay, festive Christmas holiday.

Nature's fragrant greens are being fashioned into wreaths to deck the halls, members of the Bellstand are practicing their carolling, tree ornaments are checked and polished, while the Culinary Department plans holiday menus to delight the palate of its festive patrons.

The holiday fare begins Monday, December 23, and continues unabated for all family members until the New Year is rung in. The activities keep active tots and teens going at a merry pace; while parents relax and engage in more sophisticated pursuits such as bowling, bridge and egg-nog receptions.

All yuletide guests are "at home" at The Greenbrier where the deep abiding traditions of the holiday are kept on Christmas Eve with the Yule Log Ceremony, caroling led by our Bellstand Singing Group; and, the brimming Wassail Bowl.

A New Year's Day eggnog reception and youngsters' farewell punch party sounds the final note of The Greenbrier's Christmas Carol.

Speed Weeks In Nassau

The 10th annual Speed Weeks show will be held December 1-9 in Nassau. Special Volkswagen events have been added to the sports car racing card.

Large Profit Shown In Group Of Productions

NEW YORK (AP) — The series of entertainment presented under the collective title Nine O'Clock Theater by producer Alexander H. Cohen during the past three Broadway seasons are reported to have reaped a 200 per cent profit on a total $20,000 investment.

Biggest winner is the still current "Beyond the Fringe," that has tallied a winning margin of $270,000 thus far. "At the Drop of a Hat" netted $65,000 and "The Nichols and May Show," $84,000.

The series, actually staged at the Golden Playhouse, gets its name from Cohen's insistence on making the curtain time 9 p.m., so that customers can have more time for dinner than possible with the prevalent 8:40 starting hour.

Standard Traffic Signs Sought

The AAA Automobile Club of Maryland has announced progress has been made to achieve national uniformity in traffic signs.

The club hopes to have states replace obsolete and non-standard traffic control devices as a part of highway maintenance work.

Singapore Building

Singapore, 80 miles north of the equator in the South China Sea, has become a tropical boomland. A number of factories and new hotels are now under construction, including an eight-story hotel owned by Pan American Airways.

TO APPEAR IN LOCAL PLAY — These four performers make up the cast of "Marriage Go Round" which will be presented November 20 and 21 by the Algonquin Players at Allegany Community College. They are Carole Shroyer, left; Louis Moore, right; Sidney Storer Jr., bottom, and C. N. Foote, top. Curtain time for each performance at the college on Frederick Street will be 8:15 p.m.

Play, 'All My Sons,' Next Week At FSC

To open the 1963-64 theatre season at Frostburg State College, the Speech and Drama Department in cooperation with two dramatic organizations, the Little Theatre and Alpha Psi Omega, will present the drama, "All My Sons," on November 20 and 21 at 8:15 p.m. in Compton Hall Auditorium.

The play, which was written by Arthur Miller, is being directed by Miss Dorothy Stone White of the Speech and Drama Department. Dr. Huber Ellingsworth is chairman of the department.

The action of the play centers on the owner of a small machine shop, Joe Keller, who with his partner, Steve Deever, was under contract to manufacture airplane parts for the U. S. government for use in World War II.

In the process, one consignment came out defective; and, rather than curtail production, Joe ordered his partner to ship out the parts. His decision caused 21 pilots to lose their lives in combat. In the investigation and subsequent trial, Steve Deever was sent to prison but Joe was exonerated.

The original play opened in New York in January 1947 and since that time it has been a popular vehicle for amateur groups. During the past five years it has been one of the 20 most frequently produced plays by colleges and universities in the U. S.

The cast of the play includes Elliott Weiner, a junior from Silver Spring, who will enact the role of Joe Keller; Madeline Barr, a senior from Baltimore, will portray Kate Keller; David Davis, a senior from Silver Spring, will depict the part of Chris Keller; playing opposite is Anne Brinsmade, a sophomore from Cumberland, who will appear as Ann Deever. Robert Hyde, a junior from Nikep, will be in the difficult role of George Deever, Ann's brother.

Others in the cast are Samuel James, a senior from Frostburg, as Dr. Jim Baylis; Ann Robinson, a sophomore from Cambridge, as Sue Bayliss; Henry Heller, a senior from Cabin John, as Frank Lubey, and Patricia Berlingeri, a junior from Beltsville, as Lydia Lubey.

John Gross, a senior from Cumberland, is stage manager. Robert Kotras, a freshman from Baltimore, is his assistant. Earleen Humbertson, a senior from Cumberland, is student director.

Following the two performances at Frostburg State College, the play will go on tour. Included in the itinerary are Frederick High School, December 4; Wheaton Senior High School, December 5; and Montgomery Blair Senior High School, December 6.

These Maryland high schools are being visited in the interest of fine drama as presented by Frostburg's Speech and Drama Department. The production will be viewed by the students in most schools during special two-hour assembly periods.

Vanity, Vanity . . .

VIENNA (AP) — Feel like knocking 10 years off your age? Well, just don't change your passport birthday.

A 58-year-old woman from Voesendorf near here was sentenced to a suspended four-week jail term for making herself 10 years younger on her passport.

The judge called it "forgery of an official document." He said three more women will soon face his court on the same charge.
